

JOB OPENING – MAINTENANCE MANAGER

We're currently seeking applications for the position of Maintenance Manager, to join our Team in Mullingar, Co. Westmeath, Ireland.

The Maintenance Manager will report directly to the Director of Technology & Manufacturing and will take full responsibility for the maintenance function. The successful candidate will manage the maintenance function in a way that drives it, and Taconic, forward in terms of machine optimization, cost savings, maximizing return on capital investment, modernizing TPM schedules and project management.

Typical duties and responsibilities include, but are not limited to:

- Managing and leading a small, flexible and experienced Maintenance Team, including planning workload, vacation time, and taking full accountability for the maintenance function.
- Taking a hands-on approach to developing a positive culture of knowledge sharing and skills development.
- Regularly communicating with a variety of personnel from across the company, (in Mullingar and at our other sites in Europe), to understand issues and devise appropriate solutions and implement improvements.
- Ensuring a rapid and effective response to equipment problems whether actionable internally or requiring external specialist assistance.
- Proposing and implementing new initiatives to improve equipment performance and cost effectiveness, along with maintenance expenditure optimization.
- Liaising with relevant personnel on capital projects from specification through to commissioning.
- Active participation at Management Meetings and supporting the ongoing success of the business through timely, cost effective close out of actions assigned.

The successful candidate will have a minimum of NFQ Level 7 (or equivalent) in Engineering, with the ability and willingness to practically apply that knowledge in the workplace. S/he will have a minimum of three years' experience of managing a maintenance team. Remuneration will depend on experience.
